ART HISTORICAL RESEARCH

Are you curious about an artwork in your possession? Would you like to know more about the artist, style or the genre and period in which it was made? Or have you got a letter or an archival document connected with an artist about which you would like to know more? Research on your work of art can be done for you by one of our curators. A report with our findings will be emailed to you.

GUIDED TOURS

Taking about 45 minutes, the tours provide a general impression of the RKD. After a short introduction there will be a tour of our study room which explains the different parts of the collection. The tours also inform about the various possibilities for searches, paying particular attention to the increasing amount of material available in digital form. Guided tours are free for educational users.

Prices and delivery times are subject to change. All prices include VAT. Current information about conditions of service and copyright can be found on the website, under 'Services and Products'. You will also find information about how to request each service.
